

GEDI CNC job description

This sample position description is broad enough for use to recruit a GEDI CNC. However, attention to questions during interviews needs to focus on:

- Define boundary spanning and how you use it in the role,
- Provide a clinical scenario. Ask applicant “Should the patient be admitted or discharged?”
- Provide a clinical scenario. Ask applicant “Who would you consult in decision making in this scenario?”

Your role

Assume responsibility and accountability for own actions and the delegation and supervision of nursing care to Registered Midwives (RM), Registered Nurses (RN), Enrolled Nurses (EN) and Assistants in Nursing (AIN).

Lead the achievement of positive patient outcomes by:

- Applying expert clinical nursing knowledge and skills and coordinating clinical practice within a specialty area;
- Taking accountability and responsibility for ensuring practice is evidence-based and continually monitoring and evaluating nursing activity in the specialty area.

Contribute to the effectiveness of the multidisciplinary team through the provision of clinical nursing expertise and leadership.

Facilitate a learning environment by operationalising strategies that support and promote education, learning and workforce development, including leadership in research initiatives.

Provide nursing leadership that drives system and quality improvement initiatives and change management.

Actively participate in clinical networks and work collaboratively with health care teams across the continuum.

Participate in ongoing professional development of self and others and take an active role in performance and development plans.

Actively participate in a working environment supporting quality human resource management practices including employment equity, anti-discrimination, workplace health and safety and ethical behaviour.

Follow defined service quality standards, occupational health and safety policies, procedures and programs and provide clinical governance in the work area.

Fulfil the responsibilities of this role in accordance with the Queensland Public Service values.